Hello, Summer!

Now we are in the full swing of things, with the heat, fun family getaways, and sun-shiny days! Summer also means tons more time outdoors, including in the garden! A great way to manage your garden on your own is to invest in some garden boxes, aka raised garden beds! Great areas to plant veggies and flowers, these boxes also help to keep weeds, soil compaction, and pests (slugs and snails) at bay. Garden boxes can also provide great drainage. This allows your garden to have a longer growing season and will also help you to control the health of the soil more fully. With Huskie'z, you can find both our garden boxes and some premium topsoil up at our yard! We recommend purchasing our premium topsoil, as it is a 50/50 mix of topsoil (screened dirt with horse manure) and high-quality compost.

WHY IS AERATION GOOD?

Aeration creates holes in the ground to help take away compaction so that oxygen, water, and nutrients can go deeper into the soil, creating longer roots of the turf. So, why is aeration good for your lawn? Here are just a few reasons:

1. Improves fertilizer uptake and use.
2. Reduces water runoff.
3. Improves resilience and creates cushioning.
4. Reduces the compaction of soil.
5. Breaks up thatch buildup.

Flipping Your Park Strip?

Here are a few tips on a medium density shrub design from our partners at Localscapes to get your park strip looking fabulous:

1. Plant a variety of shrubs, grasses, and perennials/annuals. Localscapes suggests Icee Blue Junipers, Blaze Little Bluestems, Stella Dora Daylilies, and Wild Berry Coneflowers.
2. Add a tree to each park strip to give more appeal, optional of course.
3. If you are looking to be more waterwise, choose low grow plants and shrubs and be sure to install that ever-important dripline!
4. Don't forget to create a design of what your vision is like for your park strip. It's always better to be prepared and have a solid idea of what you would like down on paper.
